

A Sweet Bursaria bird is perched on a piece of weathered driftwood. The bird has a light-colored head and neck, a long, pointed beak, and dark feathers on its back with some iridescent green highlights. The background is a clear, bright blue sky. In the lower right corner, there is a small, stylized illustration of a white egret standing in water.

Sweet Bursaria release.

Environmentally-sensitive coastal living by award-winning designers. Seagrove is only 800 metres from the main street and even closer to the beach.

seagrove

Sweet Bursaria release.

A selection of generously proportioned home sites and acre lots set amongst mature eucalypts. Seagrove is just 800 metres from the main street of Cowes, and even closer to the beach.

The Sweet Bursaria release features an underground gas (LPG) network, and superfast optic fibre connections to the National Broadband Network.

All reasonable care has been taken in preparing this information. However, the owners of the land (the vendors) and Southern Sustainable Developments Pty Ltd disclaim all liability should any information or matter in this document differ from any contract for sale of the land or the actual development. Interested parties should obtain professional advice. Photography © Coast magazine.

